National Action Plan for Promotion, Prevention and Early Intervention for Mental Health 2000, and Promotion, Prevention and Early Intervention for Mental Health – A Monograph 2000

To order these two companion documents complete the form below and indicate the quantity required. The documents are available as a complete set only, and are free of charge.

- Promotion, Prevention and Early Intervention for Mental Health – A Monograph provides the theoretical and conceptual framework and background for the Action Plan. Overall, the monograph aims to present the rationale for adopting a promotion, prevention and early intervention approach, showing the long-term benefits to the mental health of all Australians.
- National Action Plan for Promotion, Prevention and Early Intervention for Mental Health 2000 outlines a strategic framework and plan for action to address promotion, prevention and early intervention for mental health. It contains strategies to promote mental health, to reduce mental health problems and mental disorders through enhancing protective factors and reducing risk factors for mental disorders, and to intervene as early as possible to minimise the impact of the symptoms of mental health problems and mental disorders.
